

ActiveForever Launches Dear Erika, Gadget Gal Column

“My wife is confined to a wheelchair and we’d like to take a cruise but the thought of having to deal with a heavy full wheelchair as well as a transport chair is discouraging us from making any vacation plans. Can you help?”

–Fred from Orlando

Dear Fred, Bravo to you and your wife for traveling! We found the best wheelchair in the world that solves this very issue – the Pollywog! It transforms from being the lightest full wheelchair of its kind to being the lightest transport wheelchair. You simply push a button and remove the big wheels. There’s nothing like this out there! You’ll love it. A14041

“I have a low vision problem that makes it very difficult to read the program when I go to the opera, or to read a menu. Do you have anything that might help me?”

–Maurice from New York City

Dear Maurice, You are going to LOVE this! The iBeam watch has a built in 3x magnifier. The magnifier flips up at the touch of a button, and another button activates a very strong flashlight. I own one and it works great! There are many different styles for men and women! A18144

Chief Happiness Officer

“This interactive column is designed to make life easier and safer for healthcare professionals, patients and caregivers,” said Erika Feinberg, Chief Happiness Officer of ActiveForever. “We encourage everyone to send us their questions. The Dear Erika, Gadget Gal column will feature detailed answers, and pictures of the products that will best serve the purpose of solving the problem.”

About ActiveForever

Whether by phone, via the internet or a virtual visit to the ActiveForever Discovery Center store in Scottsdale, Arizona, these are just a few of the hundreds of questions received by ActiveForever on a daily basis. Customers, who are experiencing a short-term injury, long-term disability or just need help with relieving a physical discomfort at home or in the workplace, all have questions about what products they need to make it easier for them to maintain their independence.

Now, ActiveForever, a leading resource and distributor of assistive device products, is providing the opportunity for anyone to voice a question through an interactive column called Dear Erika, Gadget Gal located at www.caringcommunities.org/dearerika

ActiveForever offers a variety of medical and health-related products for: fitness and physical therapy; hot and cold therapy; electrotherapy; orthopedics; bed and relaxation; bath safety and hygiene; kitchen, home and garden aids; independent living; mobility aids; patient transfer; erectile dysfunction; diabetic supplies; low vision and hearing aids; medical alerts; writing tools; and ergonomic aids.

For more information or to receive a catalog, contact ActiveForever at 1.800.377.8033 or visit www.ActiveForever.com